the Rosebud?
Entice the rosebud that opens its life at an end.
The rosebud that opens
its life at an end.
The rosebud that opens
its life at an end.

So soon when our beauty has faded away, Like the rose that has withered, we'll sink to decay.
We'll soon be forgotten by kindred and friend; Even true hearts prove faithless when life's at an end.
That friendship so sweet which unites us to-day,
Is made to be broken, is born to decay;
And when life shall end, and the spirit bath flown, Oh! who will remember the soul that is gone?

Mr. Dunlop's Horses at Show.
Mr. David Dunlop, of Petersburg, Va., has a string of ten horses entered at the Baltimore show that have attracted the attention of many Baltimore lovers of fine horses and likely to be a striking feature of the show. Mr. J. N. Page, Mr. Dunlop's trainer, has been in charge of the horses at a fine farm on James River, where Mr. Dunlop has his stables.
The horses are, most of them, light bay in color, their matching in this respect, being a pleasing coincidence. A favorite mare and a blue ribbon winner, will be ridden by the young lady whose name she bears, Miss Nancy Lee, of Baltimore. "Irish Madge," another hunter, is a prize winner in the class of horses and is considered a fine bit of horse flesh.
Mr. Dunlop has made about thirty-five entries, driving "Dorby" in the gig class and in double harness, "Dorby" and "Surprise," "Watch-Me" and "See-Me-Go," "Superior" and "Dorby" will make a splendid four-in-hand team. In the pony class Mr. Dunlop has "Moving Picture" and "Delight," both of whom are confidently expected to win.

Annual Report of Dames.
An annual report, showing the work accomplished by the Society of Colonial Dames, in the State of Virginia, has been sent out by Mrs. L. R. Dashiell, the recording secretary of the Virginia Dames.
The report, which is very interesting, says:

"A notable undertaking has been completed, the copying of such old vestry books and parish registers as were falling into decay. We have to announce that all have now been copied and will be published, one each year, until all are beyond the destroying touch of time. This year the priceless record of St. Peter's Church, New Kent county, Virginia, has been published. As New Kent county was formed in 1654, and included King William, King and Queen, Hanover and all counties upward to the sources of the Potomac and Mattaponi Rivers, those counties will find information of interest in the old register, which covers dates from 1680-1778. Copies of the register may be purchased at the Virginia Historical Society."

"A movement inaugurated by Dr. S.
Weir Mitchell, and by him entrusted to the Colonial Dames of Virginia, was the care of the Washington graves at Wakefield, Westmoreland county, Virginia. This old burying ground had suffered long neglect and the society promptly obtained permission from the Washington family to restore it. Accordingly, tangle and overgrowth have been removed; the few fragments of tombs have been secured; a slab bearing the name of Augustine Washington, father of George Washington, has been placed on the old vault; the graves of Jane, first wife of Augustine Washington, and her two children, have been raised and restored. The whole is now enclosed with a wire fence supported by strong and lasting posts.
The restoration made, Miss Wilson, who lives at Wakefield, and is a descendant of Augustine Washington, has consented to undertake the care and keeping of this sacred spot."

"Our usual scholarship, for a gold medal, has been offered to the University of Virginia for the best essay on a colonial theme. Through the collegiate alumnæ the same offer has been extended to the senior classes of six of the principal educational institutions for young women in Virginia."
"Owing to the stimulus thus created at the University of Virginia, many really valuable papers have been written besides those taking the prize, and hereafter the society will share with the University the expense of publishing the best of these essays. The prize this year was awarded to Mr. Robert Hendrix Webb, and the subject was "Witchcraft in Virginia."

"The society has appropriated one thousand dollars towards the memorial to be raised in 1907 at Jamestown, Va.
"After the National Council in April last the society had the honor and pleasure to entertain Mrs. Henry E. Lo Bunt Lynde, of Michigan; Mrs. Barrett Wonder, of Massachusetts; Mrs. Joseph Rucker

LOVE TRIUMPHANT.

By FREDERIC LAWRENCE KNOWLES.

Frederic Lawrence Knowles was born in Lawrence, Mass., September 8, 1869. He is literary adviser to Dana Estes & Co., publishers. Helen, a famous Greek beauty, who has the wife of Menelaus of Sparta. She had numerous suitors, who solemnly bound themselves to punish any one who should try to take her from her husband. She loved Paris, son of King of Troy, and Helen was brought back home by her husband. The story of Helen was told in all his glory may be found in the Bible, as well as that of Babylon.
"Barbarian" means the Moorish empire that once overpowered into Spain. Chiron is the grim ferryman who, according to the ancients, took the dead in a boat across the river Styx. The following poem is from "Love Triumphant," a book of poems published by Dana Estes & Co., Boston, and copyrighted, 1904, by Frederick Lawrence Knowles.

HELEN'S lips are drifting dust, Helen is consumed with rust;
All the galleons of Greece Drink the ocean's dreamless peace; Lost was Solomon's purple show Restless centuries ago; Stately empires wax and wane—Babylon, Barbary and Spain—Only one thing undefaced, Lasts, though all the worlds lie waste And the heavens are overturned——Dear, how long ago we learned!

There's a sight that blinds the Sun, Sound that lives when sounds are done, Music that rebukes the birds, Language lovelier than words, Hue and scent that shame the rose, Wine no earthly vineyard knows, Silence stiller than the shore Swept by Chiron's stealthy oar, Ocean more divinely free Than Pacific's boundless sea—Ye who love have learned it true:
—Dear, how long ago we knew!

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, October 11, 1903. One is published each day.

Lamar, of Georgia; Mrs. Henry Dalton, of Massachusetts; and Mrs. Helen Bruce, of Kentucky, who were guests of the president.

"By act of council a State circle has been formed at Alexandria, Va., and one will be formed at Norfolk in a short time."

"Among the interesting papers read during the winter the address of Dr.
H. N. Spencer, of St. Louis, was notable.
The address is entitled 'Colonial Dames of Colonial Days' and was delivered at St. Louis on Colonial Dames' Day, October 18, 1904."

"The first autumn meeting of the society was held at Westover, on the James, the home of Mrs. William McC.
Ramey."

"The society has been, as usual, invited to hold its several monthly meetings in the homes of members resident in Richmond. At these business and social gatherings the circular letters, as received, have been read, and much active interest awakened thereby."

"The Right Rev. Alfred M. Randolph, by request of the society, has written a brief prayer to be used to open the proceedings of the society."

"At the annual meeting on May 21st last Mrs. Herbert A. Chalmers was unanimously re-elected president; Mrs.
Charles Washington Coleman and Mrs.
George W. Mayo, first and second vice-presidents, respectively, in the place of Mrs. Robert A. Gibson, deceased, and Mrs. John Addison, resigned."

"The society has to record the death of five valued members."

"The membership is now three hundred and twenty-one colonial members and three hundred and seventy-two non-colonials."

"The Virginia society wishes here to acknowledge with appreciation the several invitations and interesting circular letters received."

Jamestown Bulletin.

The April and May numbers of the Jamestown Bulletin, of which Mrs.
Frank Anthony Walker, of Norfolk, is editor-in-chief, and Mrs. Albert Ellis-worth Krise, managing editor, are very interesting. The May number takes the form of a memorial, with a picture on the cover of General Fitzhugh Lee.

Mrs. Walker will take a party abroad this summer, and will sail from New York on June 21st by the "Kronig Luise." The route after leaving New York and the well arranged itinerary offer special inducements to tourists.
Mrs. Dixon, well known from his social life, will share with Mrs. Walker's tour, will have charge of Mrs. Walker's party."

A Pleasant Gathering.

Miss Josephine Sizer entertained a few of her friends at a crab supper, given at No. 215 East Franklin Street, Tuesday evening.

The table was prettily decorated in roses, and beside each cover was a place card, bearing the name and an appropriate paragraph or quotation, the reading of which caused much merriment.

Those present were Miss Sizer, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Jackson, Miss Emily Waddill, Miss Preston Womack, Miss Bessie Hunter, Mr. Arthur Robertson, Annual Whist Club Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Milton C.
Work Whist Club was held in the audience room of the Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. I. H. White, Mrs. Bland S. Smith and Miss Claire Guillaume were unanimously re-elected as president, vice-president and treasurer, respectively, while Miss Florence L. Tyler was chosen as secretary. The same board of governors was appointed for the ensuing year, being Mrs. Harrie Webster, Mrs. Fairfax Montague, Mrs. Ben. Nash, Mrs. Reginald Gilliam, Mrs. C. E. Doyle, and Misses Jane M. Rutherford, E. M.
Harvie and Mattie P. Harris.

At the close of the meeting the weekly game of compass whist was played, when Mrs. Brock and Mrs. Fairfax Montague carried off the honors north and south, while Mrs. Bland Smith and Mr. James Kelch were the winners east and west.
Refreshments were served after the game, and the afternoon was voted one of the pleasantest in the club's history.

Excursion to Williamsburg.

The excursion to Williamsburg, to be given on Saturday by the Woman's Club, promises to be very popular, a large number of members and others having signified their intention of visiting the ancient burg on that day. It is very necessary that all those wishing lunch in Williamsburg should notify the club janitress at No. 1107 Pennsylvania Avenue, so that they may be provided there unless there is a sufficient guarantee to justify its being prepared.

FASHION HINTS

LADIES' TUCKED SHIRT WAIST, With or Without Lining.

No. 3153—Shirt waists are, if possible, more attractive than over before. The model shown is new and smart and is easily washable and to silk and wool suitings.

The original was made of plain butchers' linen. The tucks at the back are arranged to give the becoming tapering lines to the figure, while the lower edge they are finished with a neat cuff.

The new style bishop sleeves are quite full at the top where they are gathered into the armhole, and are inspired to a slight fullness at the lower edge where they are finished with a neat cuff.

The pattern is cut in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches, bust measure and requires 4 yards of 27-inch material and 1½ yards of lining for the medium size.

These patterns can be gotten at The Cohen Company for 10c.—ADV.
